LOS ANGELES STILL GROWS
TIGERS BEWARE
THE POTATO CHIP LADY
—By Arthur Brisbane—
(Copyright 1931 By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

LOS ANGELES, CALIF., Jan. 20.—This city looking west across the Pacific, back to the mountains and the effete east, is climbing up the mountains in all directions. Land that was once desert worth 50 cents an acre is now worth ten thousand and a great deal more. And this ceaselessly growing city, is spreading north to San Francisco, south towards San Diego and the "depression" has not checked it.

Douglas Fairbanks has gone to India taking letters from the Duke of Sutherland to the Marajah of Mysore, and letters from other dukes to other marajahs, princes and potentates, plus a letter of credit which will buy real tigers from the back of a real elephant in the Mysore territory. His cameraman goes along and his director to tell the tigers what is expected of them.

Feminine success here is not reserved to 18-year-old Hollywood ladies with golden hair and very large eyes. For instance Mrs. Laura Scudder will interest you, if you are a lady about 40. Ill health compelled her husband to drop his law practice and his doctors said he must be interested in something. Mrs. Scudder immediately went into business manufacturing and selling potato chips. Now she employs 40 trucks to deliver the chips and makes as much money as one of the trucks could haul.

Los Angeles, where such crowds pour over the sidewalks as you never saw even in New York or Chicago is widening many city streets, getting ready for the future.

And the roads of approach from the east are widened and straightened. Fifty-seven dangerous curves have just been taken out of them.

CANTON POLICE NAB TWO AFTER JAIL DELIVERY

Arrest Pair Who Escaped From Hamilton County Prison

CINCINNATI GIRL ALSO IN CUSTODY

Authorities, Armed With Bombs, Gas, Meet No Resistance

(By Brush-Moore Leased Wire)
CANTON, O., Jan. 20.—Two of five prisoners who escaped from the hospital ward of the Hamilton county jail at Cincinnati last Sunday night were captured by Canton police today in the home of Eddie Marking.

Girl Arrested With Pair
Sam Lovette, 36, alias Charles "Humpty" Rick, alleged leader of the jail break, and George Weber, 23, his alleged companion in a robbery in Cincinnati, were the two prisoners captured. A 21-year-old girl, Wilma Coffin of Cincinnati, was arrested with the pair. They were found hiding in the attic of the Marking home.

Acting on information received by James Herdlicka, former city detective now on pension, a squad of police in charge of Detective Sergeant Elmer E. Clark surrounded the house. They were armed with riot guns and tear gas bombs, but no resistance to arrest was offered. Herdlicka and Patience Park Beazle and Norman Kendall accompanied Clark.

Lovette, a diminutive humpback, readily confessed to police that he was the man being sought. Weber also confessed. At the time they escaped from the Hamilton county jail they were awaiting trial on a charge of stealing shotguns. Lovette contradicted this charge to Canton police. He said he was arrested for carrying burglar tools.

Seize Automobile
They said that after escaping from the jail they walked to the home of the Coffin girl and took her uncle's automobile in which they drove to Canton. Lovette said he had met Marking while the two were serving sentences in the Atlanta federal penitentiary. Marking was convicted on a narcotic charge. Lovette said he knew of no place else to go when he escaped.

A receipt was found in the girl's purse for eight hacksaw blades which cost $2 each. They were bought at a Cincinnati hardware store.

Escape Sunday night was made by use of an iron support off a cell bed to pry a door lock loose, after which a table saw was used to open the lock. The hacksaw blades then were used to saw through four iron bars, after which the five prisoners lowered themselves to the street with an improvised rope made of blankets.

Lovette, according to Cincinnati dispatches, had escaped from six prisons, Cincinnati police were notified of the capture.

HOOVER LAUDS COMMISSION'S REPEAL VIEWS

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—President Hoover expressed accord with the opinion of the Wickersham report against repeal of the 18th amendment in a message he dispatched today with the report to congress.

"The commission by a large majority does not favor the repeal of the 18th amendment as a method of cure for the inherent abuses of the liquor traffic," Mr. Hoover stated. "I am in accord with this view."

At the same time the President said he saw serious objections to the proposed revised constitutional amendment suggested in the report designed to lodge with congress the authority over prohibition.

Praise for the general tenor of the document was expressed by Mr. Hoover. He said it was a temperate and judicial presentation, and should stimulate the "clarification of public mind and the advancement of public thought."

PRESIDENT WILL DEDICATE CRYPT

Hoover Accepts Invitation To Harding Memorial Rites

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—President Hoover today accepted an invitation to dedicate the Harding Memorial at Marion, Ohio, some time after May.

The invitation was formally extended by former Senator Joseph Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, New Jersey, chairman of the Harding Memorial commission. He said Calvin Coolidge also would be invited to attend the ceremonies.

The exact date of the dedication has not been fixed but it will be some time this summer.

President Hoover recently indicated he would participate in the dedication ceremonies if invited.

An official of the commission, however, at that time said invitations had previously been extended and doubted another would be issued.

SWEDISH LIQUOR PLAN MENTIONED IN RUM REPORT

Four For This Method; Individual Opinions Are Listed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The prohibition report of the Wickersham commission, signed by 10 of the 11 members, opposed repeal of the 18th amendment and advocated an enlarged enforcement staff with increased appropriations.

Separate opinions were written by each member in which five proposed revision of the 18th amendment, two favored outright repeal, and four were for further trial of prohibition.

Endorse Swedish Plan
Four of the commissioners endorsed government control of liquor sales under a plan similar to that adopted by Sweden. Two others favored ultimate adoption of this plan if further trial proves the law unenforceable.

Briefly, the position of each commissioner was:

Chairman George W. Wickersham, New York, Republican—further trial of present law with a referendum on repeal.

Colonel Henry W. Anderson, Richmond, Va., Republican—revision of 18th amendment to permit liquor sale under government control.

Newton D. Baker, Cleveland, Democrat—repeal of the 18th amendment.

Miss Ada L. Comstock, Cambridge, Mass., Independent—revision of the 18th amendment and national prohibition act.

Judge William I. Grubb, Birmingham, Ala., Democrat—further trial of existing law.

Lemann Doesn't Sign
Monte M. Lemann, New Orleans, Democrat—outright repeal of 18th amendment; did not sign report.

Frank J. Loesch, Chicago, Republican—revision of 18th amendment to permit liquor sale under Anderson's plan.

Judge Kenneth Mackintosh, Seattle, Republican—further trial of present law, with eventual modification as proposed by Anderson if proved unenforceable.

Judge Paul J. McCormick, Los Angeles, Republican—further trial for one year and a referendum on repeal with ultimate revision as suggested by Anderson if enforcement unsuccessful.

Roscoe Pound, Cambridge, Mass., Republican—revision of 18th amendment to allow liquor sale under government control; indorses Anderson plan.

Dr. McCandless Will Take Course

Dr. C. McCandless of Salem, who was state veterinarian under the administration of former Gov. Cooper, will re-locate in Salem next June.

CONGRESS GETS VARYING VIEWS OF CRIME BODY

Suggestions For Improvement Are Made In Document

CANNOT DECIDE ON SPECIFIC REMEDY

No Major Change Sought; Propose Stricter Enforcement

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The majority of the law enforcement commissions have found prohibition sufficiently wanting to warrant a change.

Unable to agree unanimously on a specific remedy, the Wickersham commission and its 11 members embodied their views in an even dozen conflicting reports. All were laid before congress today by President Hoover.

Report Is Compromise
The report of the commission as a whole was a compromise making no recommendation for federal or major revision.

In the individual conclusions, two commissioners asked outright repeal, four others favored modification, two were for a further trial with some form of referendum meanwhile, and the remaining three advocated continued trial with intensified enforcement.

Separately and collectively, the members condemned many of the conditions under the dry laws while at the same time noting its benefits. They declared better observance and enforcement imperative if prohibition is to be maintained.

With the commission's decision agreed that if the constitution is to be revised, the best way would be to strike out the present absolute banning of liquor and to give congress the responsibility of finding a new solution.

The exception was Monte M. Lemann of Louisiana, who did not sign the main report. He and Newton D. Baker of Ohio recommended repeal.

One commissioner, Henry W. Anderson of Virginia, advanced a proposal for government liquor control, somewhat after the method in effect in Sweden. Commissioners Kenyon, Loesch, Mackintosh, McCormick and Pound recommended consideration of the plan. The endorsements of Kenyon and McCormick were qualified by statements that they favored further trial of the present law.

Four For Modification
Besides Anderson, those proposing modification of the eighteenth amendment were Ada L. Comstock of Massachusetts, Frank J. Loesch of Illinois and Roscoe Pound of Massachusetts.

William S. Kenyon of Iowa and Paul J. McCormick of California favored further trial with a canvass of public sentiment by referendum or through state conventions.

EAST PALESTINE MAN SENTENCED

Joseph Flickinger Given One To Seven Years In Penitentiary

LISBON, Jan. 20.—Norman Duke of East Liverpool, 38, indicted by the January grand jury for stealing six batteries from the Pennsylvania railroad, changed his plea from not guilty to guilty when taken before Judge W. F. Lones, and was sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail and pay the costs.

Clyde Beaver, Wellsville, indicted for assault, changed his plea to guilty, and when the court was informed that he had been committed twice, previously, to the Boys' Industrial school at Lancaster, sentenced him to 1 to 15 years in the Mansfield reformatory.

Joseph Flickinger, 52 of East Palestine changed his plea to that of guilty on an indictment charging him with larceny of a diamond brooch from Minnie Steinbauer of East Palestine, and was sentenced to from one to seven years in the Ohio penitentiary.

Clyde Moore, 46, of Columbiana, indicted for resisting an officer, withdrew his former plea of not guilty, and was given leave to file a demurrer to the indictment.

Lose Their Jobs

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Right on top of all our hard luck, Wickersham turned in his report, and that knocked 234 stenographers (who have been compiling it for three years) out of a job, and if congress reads it through, that means an extra session.

Will Rogers

KEEP WHEELS TURNING

During the last three weeks Salem-made products have been displayed in three great cities of the United States.

The annual Furniture Mart exposition in Chicago closed last week. Here were shown samples of ware manufactured by the Salem China company, specifically a new underglazed type of pottery, a comparatively recent development of the local firm.

Last week and during the present, the Salem China company reveals its skill and artistry in similar displays in the annual trade exposition in Pittsburgh.

It is estimated that more than 500 buyers, representing the largest wholesale and retail establishments in the country, viewed the displays.

Last Saturday the annual motor boat show opened in New York City and among the displays were four boats illustrating up-to-the-minute developments in this particular industry at the Mullins manufacturing corporation.

At the same time the Mullins corporation is overlooking no opportunity toward diversification. The object, of course, is to maintain production, if not in one line, then in another.

Production means employment for Salem workmen; it means wages and happiness.

Salem industries; not alone Mullins and Salem China, but others as well, are placing their wares before the buying power of the nation. They are matching their skill, artistry and production powers with others in a highly developed competition for business.

They are trying to keep the wheels turning.

TIME TO GO WARILY

The special house committee to investigate communism encourages crystallization of popular opinion on the world's most disturbing social theory in its recently published report. Americans must decide shortly what attitude they wish to take.

There are two general opinions. One holds that communism offers no danger to the United States and suggests that its proponents be allowed to circulate freely, speak where and when they please and gain converts wherever they are to be found. This opinion, significantly, predicates a great deal on the belief that Communists seek martyrdom for strength and that suppression of their activities should be avoided assiduously for that reason. It concludes that the United States can best resist the attacks of its enemies by so improving itself that it will be impervious to the attacks of the party's agents. It is an ingenious admission of fear and shortcoming cloaked by false tolerance.

The other opinion receives support chiefly from the position taken by Charles Evans Hughes in 1923 and maintained by the state department up to the present time. The government can enter into no negotiations looking toward formal recognition of Russia until continued propaganda to overthrow the institutions of the United States is stopped. When Russia shows itself willing to simulate neighborly overtures without, at the same time, supporting agents in the neighbor's house there will be formal recognition. Russia displays no tolerance; why should the United States display it?

Failure to reflect this policy of the state department in domestic policy is unjustifiable, a folly sufficiently glaring to make the United States a laughing-stock throughout the world.

It is this opinion that is held by the majority of the house committee, which recommends that the Communist party of the United States be declared illegal and excluded from recognition; that Communist be denied admittance to the country and deported when found here; and that a number of steps be taken to hinder the spread of their doctrine. The report is far from being an admission that the United States is too weak to withstand the insidious attacks of communism; it is an expression of the rightful indignation of citizens whose rights have been insolently violated; a restrained reflection of the indignation that Russians, or the individuals who dictate Russian policies, would show American propagandists in their country.

The idle supposition that America can harbor a serpent in its bosom with no ill effects is absurd. The employees of the Communist international in the United States do not expect to gain converts among those capable of understanding them. Their appeal is made to the unfortunate, easily deluded by an unreasonable theory offering them the hope of accomplishing the impossible. Drought and unemployment are first class aids to the promulgation of communism, because they increase the number of unfortunates. Exposing such people to impossible theories amounts to inviting the serpent to bite the most vulnerable portion of any country's population.

Free speech, furthermore, has no place in the arguments of either side. It is not involved. It is one thing to ascend a soap box as an individual. It is quite another thing to receive pay from a foreign government for spreading propaganda among malcontents for the frank purpose of overthrowing a government. Communists aren't interested in free speech, either in Russia or the United States.

The committee of the house has been criticized unstintingly, and perhaps with justification, for its investigation of communism. But its recommendations are sound—sound enough to stand the pooh-poohing they will receive from Americans with more cream-puff liberalism than sound common sense.

What Others Say

A LAUGH FOR MR. HOOVER
It must have been a long time since the President had a good laugh, but if he isn't laughing today at the Democrats, he is missing an opportunity.

The Democrats, as they have been very fond of reminding the President and the country of late, have decided to sweep the country in the 1932 election.

Naturally, the more the Republicans fought among themselves the more the Democrats enjoyed the show.

Unfortunately for the Democrats, however, soon after they decided that they had the next election in the bag they began to argue among themselves as to who would carry said bag.

Hence the factional row which is now kicking up over Raskob, chairman, angel, and—according to Frank Kent—owner of the Democratic national committee. And hence Governor Ritchie's transparent bid for the presidency in his fourth gubernatorial inaugural in Maryland yesterday.

Kent of the Baltimore Sun is one of the ablest literary guns of the Democratic party, and has been weakened his power over the Jeffersonian brethren somewhat by saying a good word for H. H. H. now and again, but he can still wield a wicked column of facts. He wrote that Raskob had financed the Democratic national organization to the point of personal ownership, and would hand-pick the next candidate, if the righteous didn't look out.

Reactions from the brickbat were so heavy it took Raskob a week to recover sufficiently to answer. When he did answer, he called names—a dangerous thing for a mere financier to do to a columnist. Kent could think of a few names. And did.

The upshot is that Democrats who used to see only Raskob's wings now are looking for hoofs and a forked tail, which may interfere with his alleged plans to run Owen D. Young as a dark horse.

At this point enters Maryland's perpetual favorite son, Albert C. Ritchie. The political dopsters say he is Raskob's second choice. Not even the canny Calvin ever said so little in so many words. Apart from his stand for prohibition repeal, Ritchie marched up every hill—and then marched down again.

But he managed to get across to those business interests which fight government regulation that he is safe.

All of which is nothing to worry the limping Republican administration. Indeed, the premature Democratic presidential boom and the Raskob agitation are actually bringing smiles again to the sad-lipped leaders of the G. O. P. All that is news—Columbus Citizen, January 16.

Hand Carrying Germs

Many germs, some of them capable of causing disease, are carried by the hands. Influenza is one such. In time of epidemics of colds and influenza, if more care on the part of the public were exercised there would be less danger from diseases.

Just what germs cause influenza and what its remedies are questions which have not been solved as yet. But one thing we do know: It is largely hand-borne.

The terrible epidemic of influenza in 1918 caused the whole world to suffer from the disease. Since that time scientists have been busy trying to solve the problem of its source and remedy. Laboratories everywhere have made and are making studies of the disease.

We know there are two general types of dangerous germs. The first are those which invade the tissues and live and multiply inside them. The other are those germs that gain admittance to the body and then produce certain poisons which get into the bloodstream and are carried throughout the system.

It would seem that the influenza germ belongs to the latter type or the reason that its effects are felt so generally in the system. There are dizziness, headache, pain in the back, sore eyes and other symptoms.

No matter how severe the type of influenza in a given epidemic, the patient rarely dies from the disease. It is the complication, particularly of pneumonia or pleurisy, that is likely to prove serious. Also other complications may arise from influenza, a serious involvement of the nervous system. This is not unusual. There may be trouble with the kidneys or other organs.

One who is attacked by a severe cold, or the symptoms of influenza, should go at once to bed and make a business of getting well. When you do this the other infectious germs have less opportunity to engraft themselves upon your system. The serious thing about influenza and of all the acute respiratory diseases, is that secondary infections may take place. The germs of the pus-producing germs, and other unfriendly agents, are all the time seeking admission to the human body.

Because of the danger of infection from contact with people in crowded street cars, theatres and other public places, you should think of the dangers of infection from the sneezing and coughing of persons near you. Always cover your own mouth and nose with the handkerchief when you have such a neighbor. Take pains to guard others by covering your face if you sneeze or cough.

When colds and influenza are prevalent, avoid kissing your family, for by this means there may be passed on to others your own suspected infection. Everyone should wash the hands regularly and attend carefully to the toilet of the mouth and nose. All children should be taught these things.

An influenza patient should be isolated from others. The household utensils used by the patient such as dishes and silver, should be thoroughly boiled after using. Everything touched by the sick person—bedding, towels, washcloths, soap—should be cleansed thoroughly before being used by another person.

When influenza is prevalent, it is important to have plenty of sleep, fresh air and night, all the sunlight possible, and simple food. Have regular exercise and regular habits of living. In this way you build up resistance to the infectious diseases. Above all else don't worry!

Because it is so helpful in keeping babies and children healthy and happy, every mother should learn all about Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. This harmless, almost tasteless preparation is most effective in relieving those symptoms of babies and children generally caused by souring food in little digestive tract, such as sour belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, colic. As a mild laxative, it acts gently, but certainly to open the little bowels in constipation, colds, children's diseases.

In buying, be sure to get only genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. Doctors have prescribed it for over 50 years.

The Stars Say

For Wednesday, January 21
The planetary conditions in dominant rulership on this day may not be deemed as fortunate, excepting for those in the employment of others who may enjoy some small recognition or favor from their superiors. Otherwise there may be encountered a state of turmoil and perturbation vexing the spirit and reacting on the physical condition. Finances are in a critical and are there a sign of duplicity, fraud or subtle undoing.

Those whose birthday it is may not expect a very advantageous year unless their employment brings them some preferment or gratification. There is a general state of turmoil, confusion and dissension, with finances imperiled and the menace of fraud, trickery and secret attack. Be on guard against these. A child born on this day may have a rather diffident and retiring nature and should seek employment far from the prospect of clamor, strife and confusion.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20—The opening of a new five and ten store these days has taken on a musical show hoop-la. It brings out an entire neighborhood in a furor of excitement. Extra police often have to be called. And an ambulance stands by.

The doors open promptly at 9 a. m., but by 8 sidewalks in front are bulging with a jostling crowd of bargain hunters. Many unusual values are offered at a premiere and souvenirs are given away. There are clowns to amuse the children.

A huge orchestra renders popular selections and in instances the management secures the presence of a movie or stage star or a prize fight celebrity. The whole thing has the expert touch of a professional stage director. Many come in limousines.

Sales girls are beautified to a Tiffany polish. Floor-walkers are in cutaways and boutonniere. The opening I attended on upper Broadway featured special sale in step-ins. Lavender and pink things were selling like hot cakes at 10 cents a copy.

The perfume counter, too, had a big crush. The favored scent was put up in atomizers and sold for a dime. On opening day many articles are priced far below cost to bring in the crowds for a look-around. Once inside few resist a whack at picking up an armload of doo-dads.

Next to the growth of the red-fronted 5 and 10—there are four on Fifth avenue now—the greatest mercantile phenomenon in New York is the drugless drug store. One of the largest in Times Square does not sell a single patented medicine or fill a prescription. Yet is always packed.

An amusing touch to the 5 and 10 opening was offered by an early morning drunk all dressed up and no place to go. After lurching around various counters, he finally buttonholed a floor-walker and hiccuped: "What have you in flowers better than a silly orchid?"

Goody! goody! note from a gossip weekly: "They often pick on a former country boy who is a metropolitan columnist or wearing spats but they never sock Will Rogers, the biggest Rube of all, for playing society polo."

Bruce Barton wanted to take a colored servant with him as a sort of handy man on a recent trip to Europe. A day before the departure the servant a trifle embarrassed, sought out Barton and temporized: "I sho' would like to go with you all but I'm plum frightened about crossing smack over that rough ocean. Isn't there some way I could just ease around the edges, kinda like?"

Twenty years of knocking around Broadway as a press agent has disillusioned Harry Reichenbach. "I

Fanny Ward is still to be seen where the pleasure seekers gather, especially at benefits. And this has been a winter of benefits. She has been a winter of being "past 60" yet remains one of the perky robins of life, winging from New York to Paris and back to Palm Beach. She has the form of a girl of 20, affects a youngish bob and skips about like a bubbling graduate. Her voice is a bit strident and her hands suggest maturer years; but otherwise she upholds her theatrical billing of the "eternal flapper."

The most youthful looking man for his years it seems to me is Charles King, the actor. I do not know his precise age, but I applauded him in vaudeville when I was in short pants and many think I'm ripe for the ether cone. He has the jovious vigour, clear complexion and jaunty swagger of the collegiate.

Yet somehow I'd as soon look my years. I have a wholesome enthusiasm and respect for even the valetudinarianism of old age. There is more fun in the chimney corner rocker than most suspect. Youth is mostly headaches and regrets. I'd rather be the droning housefly than the stinging young hornet any day. Me and that 156 year old Turk, what's his name?

CONGRESS GETS VARYING VIEWS

Members Find Law Wanting Sufficiently To Warrant Change

with the present system under stricter enforcement were Chairman George W. Wickersham of New York, William I. Grubb of Alabama and Kenneth Mackintosh, from the state of Washington.

The commission as a whole rejected repeal of the eighteenth amendment or restoration of the legalized saloon. It expressed opposition to federal or state governments as such going into the liquor business. It opposed modification of the Volstead act to permit light wines and beer.

After declaring "there is yet no adequate observance or enforcement," the commission recommended increase of the justice department and customs personnel to prosecute violators.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The law enforcement commission summarized its prohibition report as follows:

"Conclusions and recommendations in this report on the enforcement of the prohibition laws of the United States:

"1. The commission is opposed to repeal of the Eighteenth amendment.

"2. The commission is opposed to the restoration in any manner of the legalized saloon.

"3. The commission is opposed to the federal or state governments, as such, going into the liquor business.

"4. The commission is opposed to the proposal to modify the national prohibition act so as to permit manufacture and sale of light wines or beer.

"5. The commission is of opinion that the cooperation of the states is an essential element in the enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment and the national prohibition act throughout the territory of the United States; that the support of public opinion in the several states is necessary in order to insure such cooperation.

"6. The commission is of opinion that prior to the enactment of the bureau of prohibition act, 1927, the agencies for enforcement were badly organized and inadequate; that subsequent to that enactment there has been continued improvement in organization and effort for enforcement.

"7. The commission is of opinion that there is yet no adequate observance or enforcement.

"8. The commission is of opinion that the present organization for enforcement is still inadequate.

Increase Suggested

"9. The commission is of opinion that the federal appropriations for enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment should be substantially increased and that the vigorous and better organized efforts which have gone on since the bureau of prohibition act, 1927, should be furthered by certain improvements in the statutes and in the organization, personnel, and equipment of enforcement, so as to give enforcement the greatest practicable efficiency.

"10. Some of the commission are not convinced that prohibition under the Eighteenth amendment is unenforceable and believe that a further trial should be made with the help of the recommended improvements, and that if after such trial effective enforcement is not secured there should be a revision of the amendment. Others of the commission are convinced that it has been demonstrated that prohibition under the Eighteenth amendment is unenforceable and that the amendment should be immediately revised, but recognizing that the process of amendment will require some time, they unite in the recommendations of conclusion No. 9, for the improvement of the enforcement agencies.

"11. All the commission agree that if the amendment is revised it should be made to read substantially as follows:

"Section 1. The congress shall have power to regulate or to prohibit the manufacture, traffic in or transportation of intoxicating liquors within, the importation thereof into and the exportation thereof from the United States and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof for beverage purposes.

"12. The recommendations referred to in conclusion number 9 are:

For Medical Profession

1. Removal of the causes of irritation and resentment on the part of the medical profession by:

"(A) Doing away with the statutory fixing of the amount which may be prescribed and the number of prescriptions;

"(B) Abolition of the requirement of specifying the ailment for which liquor is prescribed upon a blank to go into the public files;

"(C) Leaving as much as possible to regulations rather than fixing details by statute.

"2. Removal of the anomalous provisions in section 29, national prohibition act, as to cider and fruit juices by making some uniform provision for a fixed alcoholic content.

"3. Increase of the number of agents, storekeeper-gaugers, prohibition investigators, and special agents; increase in the personnel of the customs bureau and in the equipment of all enforcement organizations.

"4. Enactment of a statute authorizing regulations permitting access to the premises and records of wholesale and retail dealers so as to make it possible to trace products of specially denatured alcohol to the ultimate consumer.

"5. Enactment of legislation to prohibit independent dematuring plants.

"6. The commission is opposed to legislation allowing more latitude for federal searches and seizures.

"7. The commission renews the recommendation contained in its previous reports for codification of the national prohibition act and the acts supplemental to and in amendment thereof.

"8. The commission renews its recommendation of legislation for making procedure in the so-called padlock injunction cases more effective.

Recommends Legislation

"9. The commission recommends legislation providing a mode of prosecuting petty offenses in the federal courts and modifying the increased penalties act of 1929, as set forth in the chairman's letter to the attorney general dated May 23, 1930, H. R. Rep. 1499.

"There are differences of view among the members of the commission as to certain of the conclusions stated and as to some matters included in or omitted from this report. The report is signed subject to individual reservation of the right to express these individual views in separate or supplemental reports to be annexed hereto.

Between Saturday night's darkness and Sunday morning's daylight thousands of tons of rock fell from the top of Niagara Falls on the American side.

Thus Niagara's cliff travels gradually upstream, and in a few million years, cliff and cataract will have disappeared. Those men of A. D. 10,000,000 will talk of days when men took their puny power from waterfalls, as we talk of early agriculturists that harnessed their old wives to the plow, while the young, newest wife held the plow handles, guiding a sharp stick hardened in the fire.

ROGERS, Jan. 20.—Mayor Harvey D. Many homes and farms are appraised at figures in excess of their true valuation, Cope says. Reductions ranging from 10 to 20 percent are possible for these taxpayers he declares.

As soon as 100 members have been enrolled a meeting will be called to complete the organization, Cope announces. Blanket reductions are not permitted, according to a recent ruling of the attorney general.

SO RUN DOWN HE COULD NOT SLEEP

"Severe Stomach Disorders, Dizzy Spells and Backaches Were a Constant Worry. Owa-Ton-Na Proves Wonderful," Says Mr. Maderia

MR. WALTER MADERIA

If you ever tossed about in your bed for hours trying to get sleep and sleep wouldn't come, due to your nerves and stomach disorders, you can appreciate why Mr. Walter

Maderia, 307 Pleasant Way, Mingo Junction, Ohio, is so enthusiastic about Owa-Ton-Na. He says: "It was the same thing every night. I would just toss for hours trying to get to sleep. My nerves were in a terrible condition."

"Owa-Ton-Na acted differently than anything I ever have taken. It didn't seem any time at all until my stomach felt much better, food began to digest properly and bloating spell were not near as bad. My bowels became regular and now I can eat almost anything I want without suffering afterwards. Backaches, dizzy spells and headaches are gone and I am rid of that tired, worn-out feeling. Owa-Ton-Na certainly is a remarkable remedy and I gladly recommend it to other sufferers."

Road Contests Scheduled For Salem High Varsity This Week

THE DAY In Sports

SALEM FACES CRISIS
NEW SCORING SYSTEM
THREE-CUSHION DOPE

With East Liverpool and Dover facing Salem High's varsity this week, the latter reaches the halfway mark in the 1930-31 basketball season. The games bring the Stone-men to a serious situation in that victories are almost necessary for the team to win the county and district Big Ten championships. If the Potters are defeated no one will care much about the district contest but then the game with Dover has its importance to Stone and the players at least.

East Liverpool hasn't won over a Salem basketball team in five seasons, the last victory registered by the former occurring on the Quaker hardwoods in the 1925-26 campaign. Dover, former state champs, has been more fortunate in its conflicts with Salem but the latter is expected to win this week and bring its Big Ten victories to four against one defeat sustained at Alliance.

Over-emphasis of offensive performance of basketball players and not enough stress on the defensive stars who prevent opposing point-scores from zooming the leather through the hoop is still being brought out by basketball experts in various sections of the country. Box scores published in newspapers are blamed by many coaches as one of the reasons for fandom's great interest in the player who scores and his too slight regard for the defensive luminary.

Fans seeing games played are always praising players of both types; the day when scoring stars were given greatest mention in plaudits of fans has passed with great progress of the pastime. But still more progress is possible and it may come about in the development of a new scoring system such as is now used in baseball.

In this system, exceedingly complex, those players who pass the ball to another who scores are accredited with an assist. There would be a column for number of shots attempted and total registered; the same for foul attempts. Points are awarded in the same manner but the box score would speak up for the passer just as it does in baseball for the infielder who snatches a swift bouncer and pegs it to first or assists in a double play.

Did you know that—the cash value of the national three-cushion championship is $8,000 to the winner in prize money and about $20,000 annually in exhibition purses. . . . That a new rule has been injected into this year's tourney declaring penalties of two points for each consecutive safety after two are made. . . . that "Rick" Ferrell, St. Louis Brown catcher, is a former pro boxer who won the lightweight championship of North Carolina and holds 17 victories in 18 bouts.

Returning to basketball—both the Salem varsity and reserves have already run up a fine record for cage performances and prospects for continuation of the year's records are exceedingly bright. The reserves, with eight straight wins, are due to register the finest record for a junior varsity combine in history here, and the varsity will undoubtedly end its campaign with a goodly number of victories more than over-balancing losses.

To date the varsity's record compares well with any of the district or county teams.

Thomas Halton, manager of the Barnard Clay Products company, Greenford, crashed the maples at the Salem Masonic club for a high average of 189 games last week. Halton, not an habitual bowler, nevertheless crashed the temping for several high games among them one of 247.

Scholastics Play At E. Liverpool, Dover; League Teams Clash

Salem High's varsity basketball approach the crisis in their season's championship cage campaign this week.

Two struggles, both of vital importance to the Quaker City tossers of titular aspirations in Northeastern Ohio Big Ten, and Columbiana county competition involve Salem High activities Friday and Saturday, each of the conflicts being scheduled on home floors of opposing teams—East Liverpool and Dover.

The two games mark the halfway turn in 1930-31 cage activities for the Red and Black.

Face Stiff Battles

Flashing a sudden reversal of form marked by both a powerful offense and defense, the Quakers have won four consecutive victories in the past two weeks but none of the four victims is comparable to the power of at least one of the two opponents billed to face them this week. East Liverpool, victimized by a 23-22 score here two weeks ago, is the big obstacle confronting the Salem cage combination.

Intent on annexing their sixth consecutive county championship the Quaker tossers are prepared for a stiff contest when they head the Liverpool varsity in its home lair Friday. Just as Salem has improved since the never tugging struggle here, so has East Liverpool. Since the Salem event, the Potters have engaged in three duels on the hardwood, winning two and losing one, the only setback coming in its invasion of Wellsville last week. Martins Ferry and Bellaire, neither presumed a weakling where basketball is concerned, were given severe drubbings by the rejuvenated Potters.

Liverpool Confident

There is hardly any doubt that Liverpool will enter the contest brimming with confidence in that they will hold a decided edge over Salem in the home-floor advantage. The game will be a big test for Salem's ability to overcome such disadvantages and too will determine to an uncertain extent, whether the Quaker combination will continue its monopoly on county athletic championships through the current basketball season.

This latter is expected to add great impetus to the showing of Coach Floyd Stone's lads.

Methodists Win Fifth Game In Salem Class B Cage Loop

The First Methodist church cage aggregation won its fifth consecutive victory in the municipal Class B circuit Monday night, defeating the Lease Drugs 11-10, in a sensational battle that was decided by a long shot from past the center of the floor by Clarence Walker of the victors.

Close guarding featured the contest, the Drugs passing up many opportunities to score by poor marksmanship. The score at the half was 6-4.

"Joe" Bloomberg's quintet eked out a 19-17 victory over the Question Marks in the nightcap with the Althouse Studebakers sending the Business College further into the cellar with a 32-11 trimming in the second game of the evening.

Tradition built up in 1925-26 and carried through the 1929-30 season almost is emphatic in demands for a victory over the Potters. A defeat for Salem will automatically advance Wellsville High ahead of the Stonemen in the titular race, because Wellsville's Tigers, with Nanci Checkler playing the scintillating role of the team's outstanding player has as yet to sustain defeat in the county race.

Remembering the thrills which filled practically every minute of the Liverpool-Salem game here, a large crowd of Quaker fandom will make the trip.

Dover Looms As Threat

Dover, with its weakest team in four years, is nevertheless a serious threat to Salem's Big Ten titular aspirations. The fact that this year's team is not equal to that of past seasons does not indicate an easy victim for the Stonemen for Dover has had several great cage teams for several years in a row. It lost two hard-fought games to Massillon and Urichsville last week but easily defeated Niles. New Philadelphia and Wooster are other victims on the Dover record this season. Akron West being the only team to win over the Peterka-coached team by a decisive score.

The Dover-Salem contest is scheduled at Dover Saturday night.

LEAGUE GAMES TONIGHT
Golden Eagle Clashes With McArthur Florists; Grove Electrics To Meet Electric Furnace

Golden Eagle basketballers try for their fifth straight Class A league victory at the Memorial building gymnasium tonight, meeting the McArthur Florists in what looms as a really important fracas. Because the Florists last week used the dope by trimming the Grove Electrics, the team now is indicated by league dopesters as a real threat in the merchants' drive for an undefeated season.

The Grove Electrics, a disappointment to fandom in past two or three games, will take the floor against the cellar occupants, the Electric Furnace, with a new face in the lineup. Wilbur Springer, unanimous choice for all-league honors at center last year and leading scorer in Class A leagues for two consecutive seasons, will don a G-E uniform and will play with the Grovemmen regularly.

CHAMPION LOSES IN CUE CONTEST

Frank Scoville, Buffalo, Defeats Layton In Bilyliard Event

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Frank Scoville of Buffalo waited 30 years to make his debut in a world's championship billiard tournament and then he upset one of the strongest champions in the three-cushion field over knew.

Scoville last night defeated Johnny Layton, champion of all three-cushion stars for three years straight, in the first match of the 1931 tournament by a score of 50 to 35 in 55 innings.

Scoville executed shots with great accuracy and left the champion but few easy shots. His high run for the match was six while Layton's best cluster totaled three.

With Layton one down in his fight to defend his title the struggle for the crown was renewed today with three more skirmishes.

"MANSLAUGHTER"

At The Grand

In 1922, Alice Duer Miller wrote a smashing, best-seller novel, "Manslaughter." Cecil B. DeMille produced it as a silent moving picture with Thomas Meighan and Leatrice Joy in the leading roles. Both the book and the picture were sensations. Now Paramount has transferred the thrilling drama of "Manslaughter" to the talking screen.

Claudette Colbert and Fredric March play the leading roles.

"Manslaughter" is even more of a sensation on the talking screen than it was either as a novel or as a silent picture.

"Manslaughter," now playing at the Grand theater, is richly produced, filled with speed and the vivid nerve of the new-day children of wealth. It opens among the playboys and gay girls who ride and swim and make merry in the society whirl. It turns to the serious side of life, as tragedy grips the most daring and carefree of these gorgeous people. It develops into a tremendous conflict of love and hate, with a handsome young attorney pitting his strength against the wilfulness of a beautiful girl.

"Manslaughter" is thrilling, emotionally great, an entertainment based on a stupendous idea entertainingly produced.

"JUST IMAGINE"

At The State

Lavish expenditure to provide the unusual backgrounds required for the second great DeSyllva, Brown and Henderson musical comedy "Just Imagine" is apparent in the richness of the settings and costumes for this production, which is now playing at the State theater.

"Just Imagine" is spectacularly original in theme and treatment and is superlative entertainment.

It is laid in a 1929 setting, when the world has changed materially in virtually every element except romance. The story of the love of the "Lindbergh of 1929" in the person of John Garrick, or Maureen O'Sullivan is best with the traditional difficulties of romance of all time, but, of course this being a musical comedy, true love conquers in the end.

El Brendel the hilariously funny Swedish comedian, has the principal role and moves in and out of the story at frequent intervals, providing a generous portion of comedy. He is ably assisted by the vivacious Marjorie White and Frank Albertson, the latter essaying his first light comedy role with marked success.

Song hits include "I'm Only the Words You Are the Melody," "Old Fashioned Girl" and "Never Swat a Fly".
